

DAVID HUNT

David Hunt's career in the entertainment industry began after previous life as a schoolteacher, a business consultant and a soccer player and coach.

Since graduation from The Juilliard School in New York City, he has worked extensively in film, television and on stage, with some of the industry's finest directors - Clint Eastwood, Stanley Kubrick and William Friedkin among them.

He has played a variety of roles in a number of feature films including The Dead Pool, Jade, The Black Velvet Gown, The Engagement Ring, Just Like A Woman, Bobby Jones, Amazing Grace and in The Deal, with William H. Macy and Meg Ryan. He has had starring roles in the films Closing Ranks, The Bombmaker, Anna Lee, The Dancer's Touch for ABC, The Grid for TNT/BBC, Murder on The Orient Express for CBS, Miracle In The Woods, and Trip to Tunis.

He has been a series regular in the TV series The Chief (ITV), Beck (BBC), The Dream Team (Sky) and has made countless appearances on TV shows including Numbers, Monk, Everybody Loves Raymond, Falcon Crest, Nasty Boys, The Client amongst many others.

He appeared as Darren McCarthy in the last season of 24, for Fox.

His stage work includes The Memory of Water at the Manhattan Theatre Club in NYC, Therese Raquin and Triumph of Love (with Paul Giamatti) at The La Jolla Playhouse, Progress (with Tony Shalhoub) at The Long Wharf Theatre and Hamlet at the Baltimore Center Stage.

His made his directorial debut with the film, The Bituminous Coal Queens of Pennsylvania, which won a Crystal Heart Award at the Heartland Film Festival in 2006. The documentary feature was produced through FourBoys Films (www.fourboysfilms.com), the production company he co-founded with his wife Patricia, in 2000. Most recent productions include the films The Engagement Ring for TNT, and the 2007 release Amazing Grace, starring Albert Finney and Michael Gambon. Recently completed is the television comedy, Versailles, which he performed as actor, director and producer. His co-stars included Fred Willard and Eve Gordon.